

La Reata Staff Launches New Plan

La Reata Editor Plans New Method For Book

La Reata editor, Bob Thompson, has announced an entirely new method of editing for the Hartnell yearbook.

The old method of one editor overseeing the entire publication has been discarded for a system that will provide one editor for each section of the book. Each individual editor has been selected for his experience and interest in his section area.

All Co-editor

Chuck Allen, AMS president, has joined Thompson in the co-editorship of the book and will assume equal responsibility and authority for the finished product. Allen was responsible for reviving the AMS Field Day last fall. "His joining the staff," said Thompson, "will make the difference between a terrific book and a sensational one."

Staff Named

The faculty and administration editorship has been accepted by Jerry McFadden. McFadden is a journalism major and has been an active member of the Panther

Sentinel staff for two semesters.

Editor for the Organizations section will be Violet Shiratsuki. Miss Shiratsuki is an international relations and foreign language major and has been active on the Panther Sentinel staff as a reporter.

La Reata's Publications section will be headed by Judy Wong. Miss Wong has been doing a fine job, Thompson said, as editor of the Sentinel, and is well qualified to handle the Publications section of the book.

Ron "Red" Thompson will edit the Activities section and will handle arrangements for the yearbook cover. General editor, Bob Thompson, said, "Ron isn't any relation to me but he has a lot of creative ability and will be a

The new parking lot has recently been open for use. The tennis court at the end of the athletic field has been torn down and is being converted into another parking lot for the student body of Hartnell.

This new parking lot will provide 100 parking spaces, providing a person parks properly.

This new feature should definitely help get the cars off the streets. It has also been designed in hopes that students will avoid

Art Club Meets

The Art Club is planning to meet sometime this week to discuss the sale of the copper enamel jewelry that it was supposed to have sold before the Christmas holidays.

The sale is a good source of income for the club and they cannot let it pass them by?

All the jewelry is handmade by the Art Club members under the supervision of Mr. Amyx, club advisor.

The club will also have other business to discuss at the meeting.

Campus Store Ready By June

Hartnell's new student store located in the student union area will go into use next fall. Dr. J. Frederic Ching, president of Hartnell, said that the building should be completed by June 1 but will not go into use this year.

The new store will be about the same size as the present one with an additional storage room, eight feet by 32 feet on the west side. An office for the store manager, Mrs. Monnie Finney, will also be added.

Laboratory Planned

Reasons given for the moving of the store were to make use of the present store area for a foreign language laboratory and to make the student union the center for the student store and student activities.

Designed by Jerome Kasavan of Salinas, the store will fit into the architecture of the student union.

The new building will cost approximately $24,000 which will come from district funds.

The present room which housed the store will be used for a foreign language laboratory. The room will be equipped with 30 booths, containing tape recordings, where students may hear the oral use of foreign language.

Drama Addition

This building will cost the district approximately $12,000, which should be matched by the same amount of federal funds.

Contract for the student store also calls for a drama department property room which is being constructed at present.

A ramp for wheelchair students will also be constructed beside the present steps which lead to the student union.

Register Early

Enrolled students will complete their second semester registration on Jan. 19, 20 or 21.

One of these days students will report to station 2 (window 3 in general office); students who have not paid their second semester fees must do so at this time. Karl Bengston, dean of registrar, emphasized that registration must be completed by Jan. 22 to insure class standing.

New students will register on Jan. 21 and 22.

Second semester instruction begins Feb. 1.

Roy Phelps Fund Drive Gets Boost From Clubs

The money drive for Roy Phelps has been proving very successful. Between the Christmas assembly and the Jazz Club Concert's donations, they collected $118.

Last Friday the Associated Women Students sponsored an after-game dance in which the proceeds went to the helping of Roy Phelps. They collected 65 dollars.

The band that donated its time was the High Tensions.

Roy Phelps is in pretty good spirits. Phelps is at the Monterey County Hospital on Natividad Road. Phelps has had a skin graft from his left leg to his forehead.

Visits Urged

Those wishing to read to Roy or help in any way are asked to contact Bob Malone, Miss June Handley, Bob Braun or Jim Maloney. This is something that is truly appreciated. Visiting hours are any time after two.

All donations to Phelps are being placed in a savings account for him where he can draw it out whenever he sees need for it.

Phelps is deeply touched by the interest and donations that have been shown. He'd like to thank you in person, but is, as yet, unable to get around.

Harts Put Congressman on Spot

Tryouts For New Hartnell Play Held

Tryouts were held Tuesday night for the latest Hartnell College-Community Playhouse production, "Witness for the Prosecution," by Agatha Christie.

Mr. Hal Ulrici, director of the play, is converting some male roles to female so that the cast will contain more women. The play calls for 20 people.

The play concerns the story and trial of Leonard Vole who is being tried for the murder of an elderly woman. The evidence seems to be against him, but his openness defies the guilt.

Christie's Masterpiece

Mr. Ulrici stated that the play has a number of great character roles. This is considered to be the best of Agatha Christie's works. She is one of the outstanding writers of suspense drama, continued Mr. Ulrici.

The tentative dates for the production are March 11 and 12 and March 18 and 19.

Others Considered

Several other plays were considered by the drama department before they chose "Witness for the

Why Aren't The Bells Ringing?

The bells to warn students of Hartnell of their next class have been quiet lately.

According to Mr. Stuart Dufour, vice president of Hartnell, the bells were broken some time ago. After a San Francisco firm repaired them, some members of the faculty thought the lack of bells helped the college atmosphere. Therefore, said Mr. Dufour, the bells have been quiet except for the warning bells in the gymnasiums.

"The only difficulty seems to be on Friday," stated Mr. Dufour. "The bells will resume if the need arises," he said.

College Hosts G.E. Assembly

"Adventures in Science," latest in a series of live shows which the General Electric Company of America has been presenting around the world since 1926, will be featured today in the Men's Gymnasium during the college hour from 11:40 to 12:20.

The show consists of a variety of interesting, educational demonstrations which reflect the steady progress of scientific advancement. The entire cost of production is borne by the General Electric Company and there is no admission charge to attend the program.

One of the show's objectives is to encourage and inspire students with an avid interest in science and engineering.

The General Electric's visit to Hartnell College will emphasize that our nation's continued progress will be limited only by the shortage of trained minds in all fields of human endeavor. Thus the main objective of "Adventures in Science" is to "alert our young people to this exciting and vital challenge."

The San Francisco State Choir will be the highlight at the Feb. 5 assembly. Be sure to come!

Editorial

Every Bit Counts

On a warm November afternoon, Hartnell engineering student, Roy Phelps, reached for a bottle of nitric acid on a high shelf at his home. Within the next moment the burning chemical covered his face and body.

Kindness, concern and generosity—three words which can very well describe the feelings in the minds and hearts of those here at Hartnell who rallied to the aid of Roy, whose eyesight has been permanently lost as a result of the unfortunate accident.

Ever since, much effort was continually exerted by Hartnell students, instructors and administrators to help make the future a bit more brighter for Roy.

In December, in keeping with the Christmas spirit, the campus Jazz Club turned its free concert into a benefit cause; during the holiday assembly, over a hundred dollars collected for Roy.

Last Friday night, a group of Salinas musicians donated their time for a fun-raising dance. On Wednesday the IVCF held a pizza sale, all the proceeds going to Roy.

Throughout these various money-raising campaigns, everyone gave from their hearts; many who did not even know Roy, but with hearts full of thoughtfulness and generosity, they came to the side of a fellow Hartnell student.

Yet our concern for Roy need not terminate with the contribution in dollars and cents. We can give further aid to Roy by visiting him at the Monterey County Hospital and talking to him. Some of us can give a few minutes of our time to read to Roy and keep him company. Such actions would be a great boon to the young man's morale. There is no doubt that Roy would appreciate talking to his classmates. Let's all pitch in just a bit more for Roy. Okay?

So Long for Now . . . and Thanks!

With the publication of this very first issue of 1960, the Panther Sentinel presses will stop rolling for about a month while everyone takes time out for finals. Watch for the next issue which will come out Feb. 19.

It has been a hectic and busy semester for us in Room 9. As always, it was a semester full of scoops, rush stories, headaches, jokes, headlines, cutlines, bylines and deadlines. It's been fun though and putting out the paper each week sure made the time fly by extra fast.

This is the last issue that will be published during my term as editor. It has been a wonderful and valuable experience for me and I sincerely enjoyed my job.

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank the many students, teachers and administrators for their cooperation and willingness to help.

I sincerely hope that the Sentinel has served the college well in bringing to you, the student body, a complete news coverage as well as informative and entertaining articles. Many thanks also to the students and instructors who took time to tell me how much interest they had in the Sentinel and to those who cared enough to offer their suggestions and opinions.

Thanks a million!

Hartnell's Student Store Gets Set For a Big Second Semester

The Hartnell Student Store is hastily preparing for the onslaught of students selling and purchasing books for next semester. To date the store has almost all the books students need for the second semester.

The student store will purchase all books except the language and health education books which the Calbook Company MAY buy.

Bookstore specials this month are a book binding kit regularly selling for 98 cents for 75 cents; four color writing pencil, $1.98; three-color writing pen, $1.00.

New arrivals are the little Hartnell pannants, official Hartnell gym clothes, small student desk book caddy, $1.25—Hartnell belt buckles for 50 cents. Hartnell binders will arrive for the second semester and will be different from this semester's.

WAA Sponsors Valentine Dance

Women's Athletic Association will sponsor a Valentine dance on Feb. 5.

Beth Juri, general chairman of the dance, said that the dance will be after the basketball game, from 10 to 12. Dress is considered informal.

The music will be furnished by records of various types. Admission will be 50 cents for couples and 35 cents for stags, with student body cards.

INFORMAL INFORMER

By Bob Thompson

Retrospect . . .

In reviewing the events of last year (everyone reviews what has happened at the end of the year) it is difficult to find anything worth remembering. Thank God it's over; let's hope we all grow rich enough next year so we can afford private psychiatrists.

Non-profit Organization . . .

It seems the student store is selling a drawing compass for $2.50 that sells (the exact same compass) in a local stationery store for 60 cents. I don't pretend to know what should sell for how much but surely the student store prices should be comparable if not lower than privately owned businesses. Have the prices seemed unsatisfactory to you? I wonder what the answer is?

All Night Long . . .

The Phelps benefit dance last Friday had live entertainment from 10 o'clock until 12:30 without intermission. The two hundred some-odd students got what they wanted, raw rock and roll, and Roy Phelps got the badly needed money—a good trade.

Obituary . . .

Ah . . . isn't love wonderful (at least it was as I remember it). Recently two Hartnell students (two is the required number) tiptoed off into the garden of romance and got married. During the Winter Ball (which by the way was a big success due to the work of a few freshman girls) Joel Launsbury announced that he had taken Janet Bryer for his bride, or was it Jan that announced she had taken Joel for a husband. . . . no matter, they announced their marriage anyway. Jan now has what every girl denies she wants—a husband.

Joel's home is in Anchorage, Alaska, and at the end of the school year they plan to return to Anchorage to make their home. Good luck to you both. It's a cold cruel world but now you both have your personal electric blankets.

New Look For Year Slated by Jazz Club

Jazz on the campus in 1960 is due for a slight overhaul according to Max Callao, Jazz Club president.

Callao said, "There will be no meetings of the club until Feb. 4 when a new era in 'jazz for the campus' will be introduced."

A new program to give background on the various forms of jazz will be incorporated in the meetings. Callao hopes to have short lectures given by individual members in their own areas of interest. This would give all members a basic education in jazz so they would know why they like what they do like," said Callao.

Jazz Expert Named

The first talk will be given by Dr. Duane Sandgren, Jazz Club advisor. Dr. Sandgren will also give a talk on jazz in the student discussion group series. Dr. Sandgren is credited with being Hartnell's jazz expert.

Callao feels the new policy for the jazz meeting will stimulate the already active interest in jazz on the campus. He also said, "We will still listen to LP's and have jam sessions as before, but we will know why they sound, not just how."

Campus Landscaping To Improve Grounds

An extensive landscaping of the campus grounds, recently begun, promises to boost the appearance of Hartnell College.

Hartnell Board of Trustees has employed Mr. Arthur Hyde as district landscape architect. He has prepared and submitted to the board two landscape plans. One is for the development of the area in front of the college facing Homestead Avenue and the library and interior court area, and the other for the planting of two varieties of trees on the perimeter of the college.

Library Shrubs Planned

Landscaping of the area around the library exterior is the first project undertaken and will be done within the next month. The maintenance crew and gardeners have prepared the land. Fresh loam has been added to the soil and pebble rock has been placed around the library exterior.

Contract for the purchase of trees and shrubs have been awarded to La Flores Nursery of Salinas for $621.40.

The second project, development of the inner court as planned by Mr. Hyde, will not be undertaken until next summer. The plan involves the placing of the sprinkler system, replacing of lawn, and planting of shrubs. This area promises to be the center of the campus beauty.

Students Hear Brass Quartet

Approximately 50 people gathered in the student union Friday, Jan. 8, for the Faculty-Student Discussion group, which featured Hartnell's brass quartet.

Led by Mr. Vahe Aslanian, the program featured selections performed by the quartet. Mr. Lorell McCann, faculty advisor for the group, told of the background and importance in the development of music. William Stretch presented an illustrated discussion about the origin and development of brass instruments.

Members of the brass quartet include William Stretch, first trumpet; David Satre, second trumpet; Judson Davidson, first trombone; Lorell McCann, bass trombone.

The next faculty-student discussion group meeting was postponed until February 5.

Ski Club Takes Off to the Snow

The Ski Club made definite plans for a weekend in the snow.

The weekend of January 29, 30 and 31 has been set with an arrow pointing to China Peak as their destiny.

China Peak is located just south of Yosemite. The cost is estimated at between $20 and $28. This will pay for the trip and stay at the China Peak Lodge.

The "snow bounders" will take their private cars. Accompanying the skiers will be their advisors, Miss Janet Stearn and Mr. Edward Lucas.

Those wishing to join the club on the trip are welcome to sign up. The last opportunity to sign up is today on the main bulletin board.

Women's Traveling Team Defeats MPC 31-30

The Hartnell women's basketball team defeated Monterey Peninsula College Monday night in the Hartnell Women's Gym.

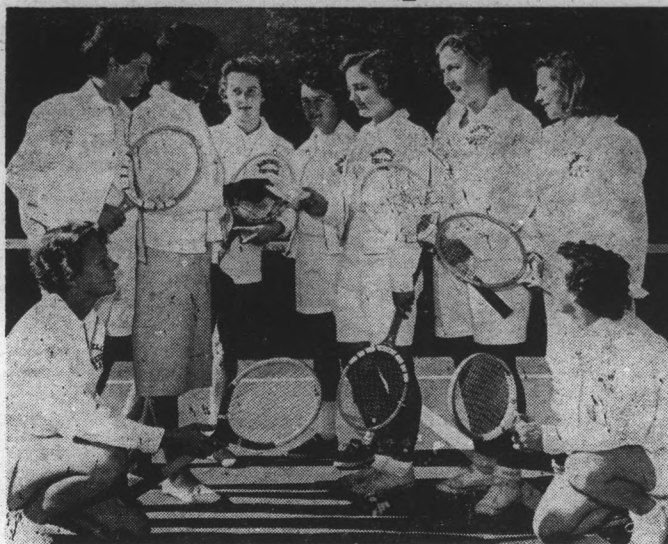

The final score was a close 31-30. It was an exciting and hard fought game.

The members of the team are Shirlee Crader, Becky Shreve, Dorothy Coop and Carol Sue Burns, forwards; and Jeanette Prins, Ruth Leavitt, Ann Salmon, Connie Sauret, Karen Allen, Renee Smith, Beth Plesche, were guards. Beth Juri was unable to play due to illness. Shirlee Crader was high scorer with 11 points. Becky Shreve and Carol Sue Burns had 10 points each.

Refreshments were served after the game.

Willis Is Conqueror

Shirlee Crader, president of Women's Athletic Association, is shown presenting Nancy Willis the certificate for winning first place in the W.A.A. tennis tournament. In front are Becky Shreve and Ann Salmon. In the back row are Beth Juri, who was defeated by Miss Willis; Miss Crader, Jeanette Prins, Beth Plesche, Miss Willis, Marie Closter and Dorothy Coop.

 great asset to the staff.

Fred Harris, a well-known Hartnell athlete, has taken the Athletic section editorship. Harris has already shown he can handle the job with ease, Thompson said.

Interest Mounting

Commented Thompson: "We have had a growing interest in the Hartnell yearbook. This La Reata has been blessed with a terrific staff, and if the book gets progressively better—as it will be outstanding over last year's—no reflection—in a few years we may get back to a hard-bound book. If the staffs continue to be of as high quality as this year's a hard-bound book is not far in the future."

Twelve bay area junior colleges will hold a co-ed sports day on Saturday, January 16, at the San Mateo City College campus. Students will participate in the following sports: badminton, bowling, volleyball and fencing.

Any Hartnell student who is interested in playing volleyball may see Bob Grossman; for bowling, see Joyce Balnati. Students who have had any experience in fencing are welcome to enter competition.

The bus will leave Hartnell Saturday morning at 6:45 and return at 3. Refreshments will be served by San Mateo.

Willis Becomes Champ

In the women's fall tournament Nancy Willis defeated Beth Juri for the women's fall tennis title.

Any women interested in playing basketball during noon next semester may form teams or sign in the women's gym as individuals, and placed on a team at a later date.

Night Courses To Be Offered

The extended day classes are adding new courses to be offered to the night students. The extended day classes normally start at 7 o'clock and run through 10. The following are the new courses to be offered in the second semester:

Courses—	Teacher—
Italian I
Russian I
Community Chorus	Aslanian
Botany	Robinson
Creative Writing	Stearn
Health Education	Wilson
First Aid	Adams
History of Russia	Samsonow
Physical Science	Holmes

Preregistration for extended day students is January 25 through 28 and at the first meeting of the class.

Frosh Cavalcade Is on Parade

The Freshmen Cavalcade of Talent is on parade. The cavalcade will be presented to the student body of Hartnell on February 19 following the regular assembly schedule. This special assembly will reveal the top and hidden talents of the freshman class.

All freshmen wishing to participate in this assembly are urged to sign up on the "sign-up" sheet posted on the main bulletin board in the main hall.

This year the freshmen are going all the way out to show that the talents of Hartnell are in the freshman class.

Choir Performs

Hartnell College choir and brass ensemble presented part of Christmas concert at the assembly on January 8.

The groups did uncustomary numbers by composers Bach, Sweelinck, Praetorius, Banchieri, and Pinkham.

A fanfare written by Bach and sang by the choral group opened the program. The two groups combined for the finale, "Sinfonia Sacra," written by Daniel Pinkham.

Dribblers Start Play On Triumphant Note

Fresh from twin victories over the week end, the Hartnell hoopsters are riding high in their most successful season in two years and begin conference play this week with high hopes and new confidence.

Friday night's battle against the San Francisco Theological Seminary and Saturday's game with Moffett Field proved that Coach "Barney" Muldoon's current squad can present a wild running game as well as a more controlled type. The Panthers won the first encounter 88 to 76 and the second 61 to 52.

At the opening of conference play the team has compiled an impressive record of eight wins against three losses. Remembering that last year's team won only three games all season, we can understand why Coach Muldoon walks around with a smile on his face these days.

Friday's game demonstrated that if our boys can't out-finesse an opponent, they can at least run them into the floorboards. The visitors brought only six men; these were sharpshooters and canny floormen. "We were lucky to win," Barney said. "If we had allowed them to play a stable game and remain rested, they might have beat us."

As it was, the local boys used a full court press and ran the ball as fast and often as they were able. As a result, the visiting ministers tired and became less effective. Paul Jones, of the visitors, was held to only 28 points—high man for the evening—and Mike Anderson garnered 23 points.

Leading the Panthers through the basket was Dennis Davidson with 19 pointers followed by Sal Martinez was 14.

No matter what fine points were neglected, the game held the customers—and there was a good crowd—on the edge of their seats with the mounting tempo of excitement.

On occasion it looked as if several Panthers were still playing football. No doubt the seminary students wished for pads and

Don Rohrke Receives All-American Spot

Panther guard, Don Rohrke, added to his junior college grid honors last week a certificate he received upon being selected to the first team of the 1959 Williamson Junior College All-American Poll.

The certificate reads:

Don Rohrke was selected as All-American at the position of guard for his outstanding performance on the Hartnell College football team. This selection is based on the consensus of opinion of the nation's college athletic departments in a poll conducted by the Williamson National Football Rating System of Houston, Texas.

The "All-American" team members include: Ends, Larry Guilford, MPC, and Steve Vaughn, Phoenix; tackles, Tom Dallapase, cent of their shots from the floor and made nine free throws.

High men of the evening were Panthers Ketcham and Martinez with 16 points each.

Santa Ana, and Dave Putnam, Sequoias; guards, Rohrke and Bob Buffaloe, Coalinga; center, Jr. R. Williams, Bakersfield; quarterback, Fred Challa, Grand Rapids; halfbacks, Bobby Jancek, Wharton and Bill Richardson, Victoria; fullback, Spencer Brown, Del Mar.

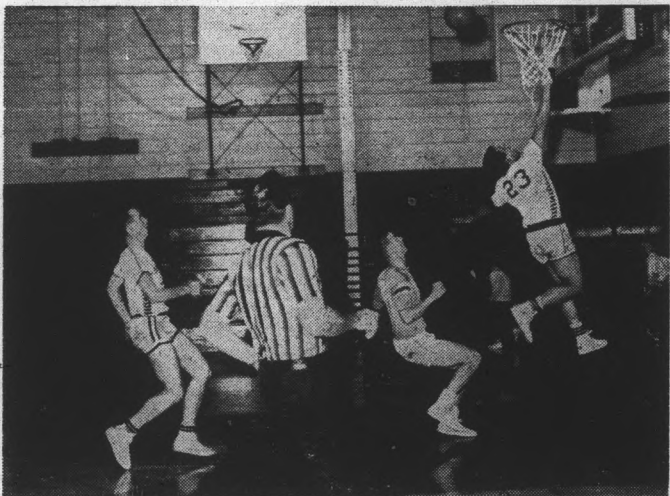

Among the players making the honorable mention list are halfback Chris Machado and tackle Leo Arredondo of the Panthers.

Players Vie High in the Sky

■ Jump shot pits a Panther against a minister in last Friday's game which was free from dirty play but not from hard fighting. In this action shot from a wild evening of play John Ketcham goes high in the air with visitor Paul Jones, who was high point man of the game. Ready to spring into action are other members of the seminary and Panthers Brad Tomasini (No. 20) and Joe Chappell (No. 24). Panthers played a never-stop race type of game to wear down opponents and hand them their second defeat of the season. Good showing of Panthers promises exciting play in conference.

Hook-Shot Attempt Detours Rim

■ Hartnell and S.F. Theological basketball players (referee, too) seem amazed that the shot by Sal Martinez failed to swish through the net but bounced off the board instead. Many of the other shots by the fired-up Panthers were successful and brought victory at 88 to 76. Racing-type game saw Harts making nearly 40 per cent of their shots, gaining good experience for conference competition starting this week. Panther Charles Noel, at left, tried mightily to grab ball on rebound but lost it to the visiting minister.
